ENGLAND'S NEW PRIME MIN-ISTER.

The Marquis of Salisbury.

The brilliant man who succeeds Mr. Gladstone as Prime Minister of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, was born at Hatfield, England, in the year 1830.
Like many other aristocrats of the old country, he is blessed with a wealth of names rivaling in number if not in sonorous quality those of a Spanish nobleman. Robert Arthur Talbot Gascoigne Cecil is a son of that Marquis of Salisbury who died in 1868, and whose honors and estates he inherited. After receiving a preparatory education at the great public school of Eton, he became a student at Christchurch, Oxford, where he was graduated. Subsequently he was elected a Fellow of another college in the same university. From 1853 to 1868, he was a member of the House of Commons, representing the borough of Stanford. Since his father's death he has sat in the House of Lords, and has been leader of the Conservative rank in that august body since the decease of Earl of Beaconsfield.

He has been entrusted with dignified offices several times before his present elevation to the highest position which can be held by the subject of Queen Victoria; the first time in 1855, when he was appointed Secretary of State for India, in 1874, when he assumed the same office the second time, and in 1878, when he became Secretary of Foreign Affairs. In 1870 he was sent as special Ambassador to Turkey and was colleague with the Earl of Beaconsfield in 1878, at the Congress of Berlin.
Since the spring of 1880, when the Liberals were returned to power by a great majority, he has been one of the most active members of Her Majesty's Opposition. In 1889 he was elected Chancellor of the University of Oxford in the place of the Earl of Derby, then recently deceased. The Marquis of Salisbury was made a Knight of the Garter in 1878. He is a brilliant writer as well as speaker. His sympathies are aristocratic; his views on foreign policy pregnant with national pride.

A Noble Colored Man.

A Washington correspondent, a Democrat and Southern man, pays the following handsome tribute to the greatest man of his race:
The Hon. B. K. Bruce, late Registrator of the Treasury, has recovered his health and I am glad of it. He is one of nature's noblemen. I heard an anecdote of him which endeared him to my heart. When he was a Senator, his former master, one of those haughty spirits who composed our noblesse oblige, a Southern planter who felt himself to be the peer of Verde Vere, came to Washington, broken in heart and bankrupt in purse. He could only say, as a not uncongenial spirit said three centuries before, after the unfortunate day of Pavia: "All is lost, save honor." He tasted the very dregs of bitterness when he beheld his former slave a Senator in Congress, that body whose lustre had been so much heightened by Southern statesmen and Southern orators. Bruce went to Secretary Sherman and asked for a position in the Treasury for his old master, who was a Democrat.
The request was granted, and a place with a salary of $2,000 given to the old Southerner. Bruce took the appointment and, placing it in the hand of Mr. Lamar, said: "Carry this to my old master and give it to him as coming from you, and do not mention my name in connection with the matter, for his pride will not permit him to accept such a favor at my hands." No knight who stood at Arthur's round table, no paladin who followed in the train of Charlemagne, no hero of ancient or modern story ever did an act of diviner courtesy or of more refined delicacy.

MARRY OR JAIL.

One of Arabi Pasha's Soldiers Follows a Virginia Girl and Compels Her to Choose the Altar or the Prison.

LYNCHBURG, Va., June 15.—A month ago a Turk, called himself Charles Costick, and claiming to have been one of Arabi Pasha's soldiers, wandered into Campbell county. He was industrious and polite, and by hard work had accumulated about $200. He settled in this county because he fell in love at first sight with Miss Annie Harris, the vivacious daughter of a small farmer. She encouraged his advances until she had made him present her with $12 and a silk dress, when she sent him a notification that she had decided she could not marry him. Miss Harris then left the county on a visit to some friends, but her destination was concealed from her angry Turkish lover.
He finally traced her to Staunton.
Having followed her to a house in that place, he told a policeman his story, and at 9 o'clock last night she was under arrest. She asked Costick, whether he would prefer to have his money back or to marry her. She then promised to marry him on condition he would withdraw the warrant. He amended the proposition by agreeing to withdraw the warrant if she would first marry him. This she agreed to, and they were married by a magistrate.

AN INCIDENT OF TRAVEL.

Bill Nye Has a Fleeting Vision.

Night before last, after I had registered at the hotel and been assigned "the last room in the house," I use the language of the hotel clerk—I went into the dining-room to tea.
After I had regained my confidence among strangers and curled myself up in as abject a manner as possible in the presence of the head waiter, I began to look around me for an opportunity to beam on some unprotected woman with my sunny smile. It is not my custom while traveling to smile on one in whose heart a hope might spring up to be dashed to earth by my departure. If I have caused pain in that way I did not intend to do so. I can joke and carry on and have a real good time, but I do not wish to inspire in any breast a hope which may be blasted, ah, alas! too soon.

It was not long before I discovered a beautiful blonde of the female sex at the farther end of the room beneath the chandelier. Her skin seemed to be of a delicate sea-shell color, and her hair was corn-colored. Her clothes also were entirely new, I should judge, and made especially for her.
On her finger she wore a diamond ring with perfect ease. She knew just how to work that finger in order to get the most possible glitter out of her diamond. Every little while I would look over there and revel in her beauty, and I thought she was not entirely insensible to my charms.
Still, she looked at me in a kind of a half-reproachful manner, which gave me the idea that I did not know whether it was intentional or not.

All that evening she was in my mind. I dreamed that night that I swooped down upon her and carried her away to the remotest boundaries of the world in a special car. The next morning I awoke hungry, for I didn't eat much supper the evening before. I went down to breakfast, waiting and fooling away my time, hoping that she would come while I was in the breakfast room, and I would fill myself up with the baul-ful vision and a cup of coffee.

Anon she came. She sailed into the room with calm disdain and an air of hauteur, and such things as that. The head waiter waved his hand like a conjuring trick in a theater, and gave her a seat at my table.
A thrill passed through my graceful and delicately-molded spinal column and I laid down the vulgar sac-cum which I was about to feed myself when she dawned upon me.
I ventured then to look across the table at her in the full glare of the new-born day. (Stereoscopic views of this last sentence will be forwarded to any address at $1 per glare). The first thing that I discovered was that she hadn't put her yellow wig on straight. It was a little higher on one ear than the other, which gave her the air of a young man who has over-monkeyed with the flowing bow. This showed to the casual spectator a glimpse of her own mother, sage brush hair peeping out like the faded tail on an old buffalo robe.

Then I knew that we would never be more to each other than friends.
Her nose was red, also, and she had not been properly kalsomined. In the hurry of dressing she had missed her nose with the powder-rag, and that organ—meaning, of course, the nose, not the powder-rag—loomed up robust and purple in the ghastly waste of cheek bones and other osseous formations.
Ah, what a pain it gave me to see my beautiful vision fade thus before me! Then I thought how I had smiled upon her the evening before, and perhaps a new hope had sprung up in her heart, and I feared that when she knew it was all over between us the shock, at her time of life, might kill her.
I left my hot pancakes, with the malty syrup all over them, and fled.
Out into the din, the hurry and the tireless rush of the mad, mad world, trying to stifle the memory of that broken heart. Should she see these lines I hope she will not think bitterly of me. I still admire her as a well-preserved ruin, but love in such a case would be a hollow mockery.

HUDSON, Wis., June 3.

"Publicans and Sinners."

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12.— Gen. Logan is immensely delighted with a letter he received a few days ago from a gentleman in Little Rock, Ark. The writer, whose name is True, began by saying that he has two boys, aged respectively 4 and 7 years. The younger is a rampant republican; the older is an equally strong democrat, to which party his father also belongs. One day last month while the children were at Sunday School, the superintendent in the course of his remarks referred to the scriptural phrase "publicans and sinners." Instantly the younger boy sprang to his feet and shouted: "Hurrah for Black Jack Logan.
He's a publican and so am I." Mr.
True closes his letter by saying that he is an officer of the city government and wonders if he will in the future be classed as an "offensive partisan." Gen. Logan says there are few incidents in his public career that afford him more pleasure than the loyalty of his juvenile Arkansas friend.

June 20th was celebrated as the 48th anniversary of Victoria as Queen of the British Empire. Her reign exceeds by three exceptions, all the ruling sovereigns of England. The three exceptions are, Henry III, who reigned fifty-six years; Edward III, who reigned fifty years, and George III, whose occupancy of the English throne extended through sixty years, surpassing all other rulers. With the exception of the Emperor of Germany, the King of the Netherlands and the King of Denmark, the English Queen is the oldest reigning European monarch. The career of this favored Queen has been a very remarkable and prosperous one.

That Sums it Up.

We could use all sorts of extravagant words about the effect of Parker's Hair Balsam. But the simple truth is enough. It is the best thing of its kind. Cures falling hair, dandruff, dryness, restores original color, is a delicious dressing and perfectly pure and clean. It will satisfy you.
The only standard 50c. dressing.

"HOME."

Essay Read Before Church Hill
Grange by Miss Louisa Pierce.

What beautiful and tender associations cluster thick around that word!
The very name of it has a charm to call back the wanderer's memory of his happy childhood hours, spent with father and mother. It makes him long to see that hallowed spot, be it ever so humble. He knows there are loving hearts there, to which he can go from all the tumults of the world, and it is to him the dearest spot on earth. It is not a fine house, richly furnished, well set tables, beautiful gardens, superb carriages, that make a home. Contentment with love makes the home.

We can adorn the inside with happy smiling faces, and by keeping ourselves and every thing around us neat. The outside we can make beautiful by simple adornments, which nature has so bountifully bestowed upon us, planting of trees, raising of flowers, training of vines,
etc.
Home is a delicate and sensitive place.
In our intercourse with the world,
we know how to ward off the arrows, that are aimed at our hearts, but, at our home our hearts wear no covering, no armor, and every arrow strikes there. A single bitter word may disquiet the home for a whole day, but like unexpected flowers that spring along our path-way, so do words of kindness, and gentle acts, and a sweet disposition, make glad the home where peace and blessings dwell. Home should be the sacred refuge of our lives, whether rich or poor. How pleasant it is to see the home governed by the spirit of love.
See the little ones quick to perform acts of attention towards their parents, doing scores of little deeds for father, or placing the best chair for mother.
Oh! how we ought to love that mother, who has done so much for us.

Father may turn his back on us, brothers and sisters become our enemies, but a mother's love endures through all. When the veil of death has been drawn between us and mother, how quick-sighted do we become to her merits, and how bitterly do we then remember every word of unkindness which may have escaped us. How careful we should be in the fulfillment of those offices of affection while it is yet in our power.
And let us ever remember that mother is the best friend God ever gave us. There are but few who can receive the advances of a College education, but will can be graduates of the heart. The learning of the university may fade from recollection, but the simple lessons of home enamel upon the heart in childhood, defy the rust of years. So deep and lasting are the impressions of early life, that we often see a man of age, holding fresh in his memory, the happy events of his boyhood days. We love to gather around the fireside, and listen to father and mother tell of their childhood days. It makes them forget the present, as they call together the happy events of their homes, left so long ago.
He that has no home knows not the sweetest pleasure of life. We as sisters scarcely know the influence we have over our brothers. We can make them gentler, truer, purer, and give them a higher opinion of woman. They will love us the better for our good acts, for every great and noble feeling which we exercise.
Every good action, is a round in the ladder which leads to God.
The time must soon come, if it has not already, when we must part from those who mingled with our childhood joys. Our happy homes cannot last long. The boys go forth to battle with the world and to make homes for themselves, and the girls go to share some one else's home, until the house is left without a child.
There are no more boys to rush in pell-mell, no more balls, strings, or whips, to be left scattered around.
No more little girls with dolls to litter the floors. Every thing is quiet and orderly now. Mother's heart is heavy, and father is lonely. Some may have gone to distant strange lands. Some to their final resting place, the tomb. We may not meet again on earth, but we fondly trust we shall meet them again in that pure and happy home in Heaven, which God has prepared for us, where our dear consoling compagnons, united in the bonds of holy affection, through the long and ceaseless ages of eternity.

LOUISA PIERCE.

The Revised Old Testament.

In the revision of the Old Testament scriptures it was found that the progress of the language rendered many changes necessary of words and phrases now obsolete, and hence unintelligible. Below are some specimens, all from the Old Testament:
Ancient, (Is. xviii, 6)—Elder or aged.
Artillery, (I. Sam. xx, 40)—Missile weapons.
Assay, (Dan. i, 34)—Attempt, try.
Bakemeats, (Gen. xl, 17)—Some kind of bread.
Besom, (Is. xiv, 32)—Broom.
Bewray, (Is. xvi, 3)—Betray.
Bonnet, (Ex. xxviii, 4)—Mitre.
Boss, (Job xv, 26)—Knob.
Batch, (Deut. xxviii, 27)—Boil.
Bravery, (Is. iii, 18)—Splendor, finery.
Brigandine, (Jer. xvi, 4)—Scale armor.
Bunches, (Is. xxx, 6)—Humps, of camels.
Cabins, (Jer. xxvii, 18)—Cellars, vaults.
Cankerworm, (Ps. cv, 34)—Caterpillar.
Carriage, (Judges xviii, 21)—Baggage.
Champaign, (Deut. xi, 30)—Plain.
Chapiter, (Ex. xxxvi, 38)—Capital.
Chapman, (I. Kings x, 15)—Trader.
Charger, (Num. vii, 12)—Platter.
Cast, (Ex. x, 4)—Border.
Comely, (Ps. xxxiii, 1)—Becoming.
Cracknel, (I. Kings xiv, 3)—Cake.
Conversation, (Ps. xxxvii, 14)—
Manner of life.

Cunning, (Gen. xxv, 27)—Knowing, skillful, not implying artifice.
Daysman, (Job ix, 32)—Umpire or arbitrator.
Despite, (Ezek. xxv, 6)—Reproachful, contempt.
Discipline, (Job xxvi, 10)—Instruction.
Discover, (Ps. xxix, 9)—Uncover, or lay bare.
Ear, (Deut. xxi, 4)—Plough.
Easue, (Ps. xxxiv, 14)—follow after and overtake.
Entreat, (Gen. xi, 16)—Treat.
Eschew, (Job ii, 8)—Flee from,
avoid.
Flats, (Job ii, 28)—Vats.
Fenced, (Num. xxxii, 17)—Fortified, defended.
Fine, (Job xxxviii, 1) Refine.
Flag, (Ex. ii, 3-5)—Reed, grass.
Fray, (Deut. xxviii, 26)—Frighten.
Fretting, (Lev. xiv, 44)—Devouring, corroding.
Gallant, (Ps. xxxiii, 21)—Splendid,
stately.
Goodman, (Prov. vii, 19)—Master
the house.
Gracious, (Prov. xi, 16)—Filled with grace.
Habergeon, (Ex. xxviii, 32)—Coat of mail for the head and shoulders.
Harness, (I. Kings xxii, 30)—Armor.
Handy work, (Ps. xix, 8)—Workmanship.

Democratic Ticket.

FOR STATE TREASURER,
JAMES W. TATE,
OF FRANKLIN COUNTY.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce James Breathitt as a candidate to represent Christian county in the Legislature. Subject to the action of the Republican party.

Judge J. B. Stallo, of Cincinnati, has been appointed Minister to Italy.

Col. W. B. Fleming, of Louisville, was appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico, Friday. He was defeated candidate for District Attorney.

The report of the Commissioner of Agriculture for June puts the wheat crop in Kentucky at 22% of a full crop. Corn is rated at 87% and tobacco at 101%. These figures are based upon reports from 85 counties.

The Henderson Journal, heretofore published by a stock company, has been sold to Messrs. Jno. A. Lyne and Starling Marshall. The Journal has the appearance of a prosperous sheet and we trust it may continue to prosper.

One hundred miners were killed by a fire damp explosion in a coal mine near Manchester, England, Thursday. On the same day the French ship, Renard, was found to have been lost in the Indian ocean with 127 souls on board, not one of whom was saved.

T. J. Cluverius, a Richmond, Va., lawyer, has been sentenced to hang Nov. 20, for the murder of Miss Fannie Lillard Madison. The girl had been seduced by Cluverius and the theory of the defense was that she committed suicide. The evidence against the prisoner was wholly circumstantial. He asserted his innocence when sentence of death was pronounced.

The Steamer "Isere" bringing the "Statue of Liberty," a present from France to the United States, arrived at New York Friday and was received with great formality. The naval pageant was the finest ever witnessed in New York. The N. Y. World's Pedestal Fund has reached $75,000 and is still growing and the necessary $100,000 to mount the colossal statue will soon be raised.

Mr. C. C. Givens has sold the Madisonville Gleaner to Prof. J. J. Glenn and will in connection with Mr. Walt. M. Young start a paper in Henderson. Mr. Young is a brother to Zeno Young and is a practical printer and has for the last three years been foreman of the Owensboro Messenger office. Mr. Givens is a young man of untiring energy and considerable experience and we may expect the boys to get out a first-class paper. They have our best wishes.

Although Mayor Reed has withdrawn his opposition to the gamblers in Louisville they are not having things all their own way by any means. The Grand Jury indicted fifteen of them last week and the work of finding indictments is still going on. The Commercial, which is making a heroic fight for law and order, says:

"It is understood that during the vacation of the Circuit Court the Law and Order Club will have the gamblers arrested day after day on warrants sworn out before Judge Thompson, and that the work will be kept up until the gamblers are driven from the city or compelled to engage in legitimate business."

In Breckenridge county, three miles from Walker's mill, is one of the most remarkable natural ice houses in the world and a curiosity well worth traveling some distance to see. It consists of a cave with an entrance about eight feet wide and twelve feet high. The temperature in this cave ranges about twenty degrees above zero the year round and in the summer time the change is so great that it nearly freezes a person to death to go into it. Above the cave on the hill is located a considerable stream of water that makes its way in large drippings through the roof of this remarkable subterranean passage. These drippings congeal in the cave and fall solid lumps of ice from the ceiling. This freezing has doubtless been going on for years as the cave contains thousands of tons of ice. Dr. H. C. Duval, of Big Clifty, who had occasion to get some ice from this natural store house for a patient in the neighborhood, says that it is the purest and best ice he ever saw and that standing at the mouth the falling of the ice can be heard like thunder in the distance. —Elizabethtown News.

Kentucky Progress.

J. A. Neely, Fulton, Ky., has rebuilt his saw mill lately burned.

Frank Costigan has started a small creamery at Helena Station, Ky.

J. O. Clure & Sons have added some machinery to their planing mill at Henderson, Ky.

P. Harris proposes to erect a museum building in Louisville, Ky., to cost $75,000.

A project is on foot to extend the Lexington, Ky., street railway.

Conn Bros. have put some new machinery in their mill at Winchester, Ky. —Manufacturers Record.

Mr. Brasher Declines.

KELLY'S STATION, KY., June 19, '85. Messrs. E. S. Stuart, R. Vaughan, Thos. H. Shaw, Jas. R. Wiles and others.

GENTLEMEN:—Your very flattering call upon me to become a candidate to represent Christian county in the next Legislature of Kentucky, has been read and duly considered by me. I will say in response, that were circumstances different and the condition of my private affairs such as to admit of it I would take great pleasure in entering into the canvass and going over the whole county—large as it is—but duty to my family compels me to decline to make the race. Great responsibility should, and does rest on any public servant, and especially the people's representative.

Two years ago I promised the public, in my canvass, that if elected, I would be faithful to what I thought to be the interest of the county and State, irrespective of party or personal friendships, which I tried to carry out during the session of 1883-4, to the best of my judgment. I take this opportunity to say, that time cannot efface my feeling of gratitude to those who supported me and manifested such great interest in my behalf, in my last canvass, and I feel thankful to those who opposed me in said canvass, for the kind and courteous treatment which I have invariably received at their hands.

Let me say to you, gentlemen, and to those in different portions of the county, who have solicited me to again make the race, that I appreciate your compliment. Thanking you most sincerely, I remain

Yours respectfully,
LARKIN L. BRASHER.

A Female Preacher.

Rev. Ella Bartlett, a clergywoman (if we may use the word) of the Universalist faith, preached in the basement of the Cumberland church last Friday night. The room was a small one, but it was literally packed and even the windows were filled, and crowds stood outside, being unable to get in. The audience was composed of about three-fourths ladies and one-fourth gentlemen. This was due to the fact, however, that the men were, like "Hiram" at the Commencement Sermon, "crowded out." The speaker is from Madison, Wis., and the Northern brogue is very pronounced in her speech. She appeared attired in a black silk dress, with no jewelry but a breast-pin, and stood to one side of the stand and not behind it. While speaking she held her left hand behind her, in which was a paper with a few notes jotted down, though she rarely ever referred to it. In her right hand she held a palm leaf fan which she plied vigorously as she talked. As she warmed up in her discourse she laid down the fan and gesticulated gracefully with her right hand. She was a woman of comely appearance, apparently somewhere in the thirties as to age. Her hair was black and put up in a coil on the back of her head and she was without bangs or other head adornments. Her forehead was retreating, her figure stout, waist large and voice deep and sonorous for a female. The services were begun at 8:30 o'clock with prayer by Rev. A. C. Biddle, after which Miss Bartlett read a chapter and the choir sang a hymn. She then took her text from I James, 1:12 and entered with self-possession into her discourse. She referred to the Greek and Roman contests and games for prizes in ancient times and then spoke of the contests of Christians against evil, their reward being a crown of glory and eternal life. She dwelt upon the promises in the Bible and said eternal life was not a reward but a free gift from God to man. She defined eternal life as a knowledge of God and a closer communion with God. Speaking of the love of God she said it was natural impulse with man to love God and there should be a chord of sympathy between man and his God. Love is life. We live upon love and should love our maker with a good and pure love. The Christian's reward for well-doing is eternal life, the gift of God. No wicked person could be approved of God or receive the crown of life. While this crown is a free gift, it must come of man's own work. It is better for all to do their best to serve God, for evil re-acts upon wrong-doing. Develop Christ, strive for a more perfect knowledge of God and become glorified in the end. The apprehension of Christ's spirit is an invincible armor which makes its wearer safe from evil. In the life eternal hereafter we shall have closer communion with God and be purer, more holy and more spiritual. She then closed by declaring that a life of eternal happiness awaited all mankind and ended by invoking God's blessings upon the audience. The sermon was rather disconnected and it was not till near the end that she even alluded to the subject of universal salvation. She was listened to with attention and her sermon was pronounced by all to be a very good one from the standpoint of her faith and belief.

Ed. Union Semi-Weekly Local is now six months old and the editor calls upon his patrons to inform him by postal card whether a weekly or semi-weekly is desired in the future. He proposes to be governed by the will of the majority. If we are entitled to a vote, Bro. Wilson, put us down for the semi-weekly, first, last and all the time. We have become attached to our little contemporary and should regret to see its smiling face less frequently.

Hardin county is without a sheriff.

Cerulean Springs Ky.

The Erie Correspondent of the Philadelphia Press gives an account of a cave, found on the farm of J. H. Porter, in New York State, not many miles from where the Lake shore Railroad crosses the boundary line of that state.

In his account he states that "workmen discovered the cave and found heaps of human bones" enough—so the naturalists and archaeologists say—to make 150 skeletons and none left over. The bones indicate that they were the bones of giants beside which "our tallest men would appear as pigmies." Bones were found some of which are as large as a water bucket and are placed at various places for inspection. The entire village and country is "aroused at the discovery." Now we have no reason to doubt this, no more than they doubt the existence of a cave filled with pure ice right down near Princeton, and our friend Capt. Allen says it is true, he has been there, chopped the ice, brought some home, and that Joe Mulholland has not been near his office for months.

Has any distinguished scientist investigated it, if not, why not? Is it not a subject that would naturally call the attention of the learned men? Now if there is that much ice in that cave, just think of it! Ice miles deep! It must be the water cooler for Sheol or Hades (or whatever the name of the place is) and for "customers only." I suppose. Well it is a fine thing that the new revision came out just as the cave was discovered, and if it is the aforesaid "cooler" it knocks the old brimstone idea into a last year's bird's nest.

The question arises what is the mean temperature in Sheol any way? A kind of pie-nic, ice cream coolness, sorter slushy like? Just as I said thirteen years ago, they'd fool around with that book until we'd know a heap less about it than we already did know, and even then we wouldn't have to forget anything. So they have "done gone and done it."

Now what is the colored brother going to do? Here for years he has believed that the place was warm, and some have tried hard and done all in their power to "get dar" on that account, and it turns out they have an ice cooler located near Princeton and from this I suppose it is cold as thunder and all the water pipes freeze up and plumbers rule the whole business. Ice dealers are never heard of (in their every day profession) and "cellard foks" freezing to death.

Taking all that into consideration, is there anything remarkable about an old cave, with some old bones in it, and a whole section of country getting excited over it? The people pay no attention to such trifles down in this country. It takes whole ice-bergs, ice caves and dynamite to raise them.

From all accounts it seems that the present administration is the means of a goodly number of Republicans getting out. This brings up another question. If a man's shoes are wearing out and the toe of the larger magnitude is out, is it right to say the shoe is out at the toe, or the toe is out at the shoe? Is the Republican out with the Democrats or just the other way? I think so too, and the Republicans are doing the most of the "outen" business.

A California physician writing to a Medical Journal, claims that by the use of the bruised pulp of eucalyptus leaves, applied to a bald head it will make hair grow.

This statement "leaves" no doubt in my mind, but what the price of seats in the front row will drop below par, it is so.

Weather is getting warm and Mr. Harper looks for a number of visitors next week. The opening ball will take place this night two weeks (Friday July 3) and further notice will be given. Cerulean is just as beautiful and the water is just as good as it will be in the middle of summer; all we need is a band which will be on hand soon.

Ticks on Sheep.

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., June 10, '85.

EDITOR FARMERS HOME JOURNAL:

Will you allow me to ask for information through your paper. My sheep do not thrive. The lambs seem to be stunted. My whole flock, for the past eighteen months, have been infested with ticks. Will some of your numerous readers tell me through your paper, whether or not ticks are injurious to sheep. If so what is the safest and most effectual remedy to destroy them and how to use it? Such information will be thankfully received and appreciated.

Respectfully,

F. M. P.

Of course ticks are injurious and in direct proportion to the number found on the sheep. There are many dips prepared for destroying these vermin, and if you don't happen to know of any convenient to you make a strong decoction of tobacco stems or trash and dip your sheep. Be careful not to get it in the eyes or mouth. The ticks always leave the old sheep after they are sheared and collect on the lambs.—Farmers' Home Journal.

Mr. Thomas Bean and Miss Mollie Simpson, of Washington county, were to have been married Thursday, but the lady at an early hour took a trip to Jeffersonville, says the Record, and married Eugene Miller.

A. J. Morehead, Democrat; W. W. Poole, Republican, and W. L. Trice, Independent, are the Legislative candidates in Webster county.

KENTUCKY KNOWLEDGE.

Most of the buildings destroyed by the late conflagration in Harrodsburg will be re-built at once.

Reuben Conner, a former member of the House, has been nominated for the Legislature in Boone county.

Buck Rowlett, editor of the Oldham Era, is having a humorous book called "A Job Lot" published in Louisville.

At Smitleytown, Spencer county, during the war, a lady hid her spoons so well that she was never able to find them. Recently her house was burned, and in the debris the lost spoons were found.

In Knott county the war between the Hall and Jones factions is still raging. At the last encounter on Wednesday each party lost a man. This brings up the list of killed to nine in the last three weeks. One of the Jones party returned a day or two ago from Cincinnati, where he had invested $400 in sixteen shooters, with which they are constantly armed.

The John Brown Medal.

The gold medal in honor of John Brown, struck in 1874 in Paris, and sent by Victor Hugo and other distinguished Frenchmen to the hands of Mr. Garrison to the widow of John Brown in California, is about to be transferred by the Brown family to the custody of the Kansas Historical Society, which has made a specialty of relics and memorials of the great enthusiast whose name has been indelibly inscribed on the annals of that State. John Brown, Jr., lately addressed a letter to the Secretary of the Society, stating that his sister Sarah had placed the medal in care of the Bank of San Jose, and had expressed to him the desire that this medal and other relics of their father should be in some safer custody.—N. Prof. Aug. G. Reichert, of Eminence, is in the city visiting his brother-in-law, Mr. C. E. West.

Miss Addie Howerton, of Nashville, is visiting Miss Mattie Johnson, South Main street.

W. M. Carr and wife have gone on a visit to relatives, near Hopkinsville.—Bowling Green Times.

Miss Minnie Dalton, of Barn Plains, Tenn., was in the city Saturday on a visit to her brothers.

Mrs. Clarence Anderson and her pretty little daughter, Miss Genevieve, have returned from a visit to Harrodsburg.

Mrs. Sarah Mason and Mrs. M. A. Mason, of Newstead, passed through the city yesterday, en route to Trenton.

Rev. J. L. Caldwell left this morning for Hopkinsville to attend a meeting of the Presbytery.—Bowling Green Times.

Mr. Weyman Meacham and his sister, Miss Sallie, of Fulton, Ky., are visiting Mr. L. P. Payne's family, this week.

Misses Willie Elliott and Olivia Thompson went down to Cadiz last Wednesday to visit relatives and friends. They were accompanied by Mr. Geo. V. Thompson.

Judge Casswell Bennett, of Smithland, a candidate for Appellate Judge, was in the city last week. The election does not take place until August, 1886.

Jimmie Spillman, accompanied his aunt, Mrs. Anderson, to Hopkinsville last week, where he will remain a few days and then leave for St. Louis to spend the balance of vacation with relatives there.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Mr. C. B. Fuqua, the popular young druggist, for some time past with Mills & Lacey, has accepted a more lucrative position with his former employers, Fellows & Thrope, of Big Rapids. During his stay in this city Mr. Fuqua has made many friends, who while they regret his departure, will be glad to hear of his improved prospects. Before entering upon his new duties he will make a brief visit to Chicago and Milwaukee.—Grand Rapids (Mich.) Telegram.

Murdoch Monday 29th.

James E. Murdoch, the great elocutionist, will give one of his inimitable entertainments at the Opera House next Monday night. Of him the Courier-Journal said on Apr. 29 last:

"The noblest Roman of them all, the greatest actor America has yet given to the stage, happily spared to us in his old age, reads at the Masonic Temple to-night. To see Mr. Murdoch is a memory for life; to hear him is a liberal education. His presence in the midst of us is both an honor and an opportunity. Although past three score and ten, he was the one great personality that redeemed the dramatic festival last year. And yet Mary Anderson was in the cast."

Rev. E. L. Powell has declined the call to the pastorate of the Christian church here. His church at Maysville would not give him up.

Mr. J. B. Dade has been appointed administrator of the late P. L. Turi-an. He leaves an estate worth about $3,000.

Polk Cansler will sell 4 head of Jersey cattle next Saturday, all entitled to registration. Pedigrees furnished with each one.

Being anxious to reduce my Stock of Millinery goods, I will give great bargains in hats, bonnets, etc., for the remainder of the season.

MISS ALICE HAYES.

Mr. R. H. Holland has in his hands a $50 forfeit for a $100 running race against any horse in Christian, Todd, Trigg or Hopkins counties. Half-mile heats, best two in three.

Dr. J. B. Solomon has resigned the pastorate of the First Baptist church of this city. He will accept a call at Zion, Henderson county. His successor has not yet been determined on.—Owensboro Messenger.

Mr. Henry Landon, who was sent to the asylum at Hopkinsville six or seven weeks ago, returned to the city Saturday night restored in mind, but still weak physically. He is now with his family at Brewer's Mill.—Mayfield Democrat.

Isaiah H. Jones left for Frankfort yesterday to attend as a delegate to the Kentucky Grand Lodge of Good Samaritans, a colored benevolent order with a flourishing lodge in this city.

Wheat—what there is of it—is now ready for the sickle and some fields have already been cut. The crop will be mostly harvested this week, with anything like favorable weather.

The Keen Missionary Guild will meet at Mr. S. G. Buckner's Friday evening at 8 o'clock. There will be music, recitations, etc. Plenty of ice water and lemonade. 10 cents admission. Everybody invited.

The General Association of Kentucky Baptists will convene at Mayfield next Wednesday and continue three or four days. Rev. J. N. Pres-tridge, Rev. J. T. Barrow, Prof. J. W. Rust, Maj. J. O. Ferrell and others will attend from this city. They left yesterday.

In a card elsewhere Hon. L. T. Brasher declines to become a candidate for the Legislature. This leaves the Republican nominee, Mr. Breathitt, without opposition. Is there no Democrat in the county who is willing to lead his part in the coming race?

Major Crump was here last week to see the Carlisle Rifles drill, and on the strength of their performance offered them a position at the Philadelphia encampment of next month. The offer is now under consideration, but it is most probable there are not enough willing and free to go to make up a company. There is some talk of taking part of our company and part of the Hopkinsville company.—Henderson Journal.

The Hopkinsville South Kentuckian heads a notice of a game of base ball played in that city, "Dudes vs. Asylums." The asylum is the place for all dudes and baseballists, and as Hopkinsville has an asylum handy, we suggest that she rid herself of the above named classes within its walls.—Union Local.

The rain storm in this city Saturday at noon was the hardest that has been witnessed here for twenty years. There have been short showers as hard, but for 45 minutes the rain fell in a perfect deluge. The streets were flooded and some business houses had water running through them. In the flat near the gas house several colored families were flooded and had to move out in a wagon. The streets and gutters were washed out perfectly clean, and in this respect at least the rain was a God-send.

The plank walk in front of the colored Methodist church was washed away and lies in the street. The wind blew furiously but no damage was done in the city save that a tree here and there was blown down.

The surveying party began the work of surveying and locating the H. & C. Railroad yesterday. Maj. J. W. Robinette is in charge, assisted by Capt. J. H. Fitts and Capt. A. V. Townes. Capt. Fitts' engineering class also sends four young men—Herman Cox, Logan Feland, Hanson Dulin and Otto Anderson—to assist and obtain practical experience in surveying. Prof. C. H. Dietrich, Mr. W. J. Withers and one or two other gentlemen will also go along. The work will be begun at the city limits and after to-day the engineers will camp out. We will be able in a few days to tell something of the route to be taken.

Company D. Disbands.

All the companies of the Third Regiment of State Guards have been inspected within the last ten days, with the view to select the best four to go to the National encampment at Philadelphia. The following order has been issued by Col. Crump:

HEADQUARTERS
THIRD REGIMENT K. S. G.,
BOWLING GREEN, KY., June 17, '85.

No. 1. In pursuance of G. O. No. 1, the competitive inspection and drill has resulted as follows:

Co. F, Henderson, 58.3.
Co. B, Owensboro, 54.
Co. A, Bowling Green, 53.
Co. H, Mayfield, 46.
Co. D, Hopkinsville, 45.
Co. E, Glasgow, 39.
Co. C, Russellville, mustered out.
Co. G, Paducah, mustered out.

2. Cos. F, B, A, and H having been selected, will at once report to their headquarters their intention as to the Philadelphia trip.

3. The minimum number is fixed at 32—24 men in line, two guides, one quartermaster, two cooks and three commissioned officers. The maximum 40 men—32 in line, eight officers, guides, cooks, etc.

M. H. CRUMP,
Colonel Commanding.

The term of enlistment of the members of Co. D, expired on the 20th and Col. Crump came down to muster them out. They refused to surrender their uniforms until paid up in full by the State and the company was not formally mustered out. The State owes for the last "campaign," about $16 to each man. Col. Crump ordered that each member be honorably discharged whenever the State's property is surrendered and thus the matter stands.

The competitive drill for the prizes also came off as announced. The gold medal belonging to the Company, worth $35, was won by Jas. F. Garlly, who becomes its permanent owner. Sergeant Garlly has worn a medal most of the time since it was bought, as the best drilled soldier.

The Company cup, worth $25, was won by the second platoon and presented by them to Lieut. E. R. Cook.

It was decided that eight of the members would go with the Henderson Company to Philadelphia, leaving next Saturday. They will be gone about two weeks. The following soldiers will go:

Lieut. E. R. Cook, Sergt. Jonett Henry, Sergt. J. F. Garlly, C. M. Lacy, John E. Campbell, W. T. Cooper, J. L. Meyers, C. C. Slaughter. Each soldier who goes on this trip will be required to pay $5, which will be the only expense. An additional $2.50 is recommended for incidentals, but is not required.

The Scaffold Ready.

The scaffold to be used in the execution of Jordan Taylor is now being erected. It is located on the river bank, in a vacant lot, and is about 75 or 100 yards northwest of the jail. The scaffold will be 11 feet high and will have a drop of about six feet. There will be a platform with a door four feet square hung by hinges underneath and held up by a bolt above. When all is ready the bolt will be shoved out and the door will drop from under the doomed man. The scaffold will be in an enclosure 25 x 25 feet, made of plank 16 feet high, into which but 50 persons can be admitted. The crowd will have to content themselves with seeing the prisoner go from the jail to the scaffold, or take their chances on seeing from the roofs of adjoining houses or the tops of trees around the inclosure. The execution will take place at ten o'clock, A. M.

Dawson Springs.

The various hotels at Dawson are now rapidly filling up with those in search of health. There has been a change since last season and sporting characters are no longer infesting the town to the exclusion of other guests. There has been a marked improvement as one by one the licenses has expired and the saloons have had to quit business. Only two now remain and they will be closed the last of July. The guests now there are those who go to drink the water. The leading hotels are the Arcadia, J. W. Pritchett, Manager; the Summit House, W. L. Hamby, proprietor; the Dawson Hotel, Mrs. I. Snell, proprietor; the Sandusky House, Dr. J. P. Cullon, proprietor, and Mrs. Cook's Hotel. Besides these there are several other smaller hotels and boarding houses where good accommodations can be had.

The manufacture of Dawson Salts is now being carried on regularly and shipments are made every day. The season has fairly opened and those in ill health will find Dawson one of the best resorts in the west.

Mess. S. & E. Oberdorfer, of Henderson, have purchased the stock of dry goods of the late firm of McElwaine Bros., of Trenton. They bought this stock at a bargain and intend to close it out at very low prices. These gentlemen are reliable, enterprising business men. If they are pleased with the locality and business outlook, and no doubt they will be, they will continue to carry on the business at Trenton, after they have closed out this stock.

The L. A. & T. Railroad has been graded to a point one mile northwest of Newstead. The company is having some trouble about securing the right of way through some farms, but this is one of the difficulties that all railroads have to encounter.

The ceiling to H. B. Garner's Drug Store will be 16 feet high—the highest in the city.

BASE BALL.

Asylums Again Victorious.

THE SHAMROCKS BEATEN.

On last Thursday the Shamrocks of this city were beaten by the Lunatics by a score of 40 to 20. The catcher of the Shamrocks had his finger knocked out of joint early in the game; otherwise the score might have been closer. The playing of Sensbach, Brackroge, Waller and Rodman for the Asylum club, and Tibbs and Garlly for the Shamrocks was the feature of the game. The heavy batting of the Shamrocks was also noticeable. Below, we give the score:

St. John's Day.

Every exertion is being made to make the Masonic celebration tomorrow a grand success. A large number of fine shots are expected to take part in the bird shooting. The game of ball promises to be the best ever seen in the city. "Quinine Jim" McKenzie will be on hand, and plenty to eat for all. Co. "D," K. S. G., has kindly agreed to take part in the grand parade. Let everybody go and give this good cause the encouragement it deserves. Remember it is for widows and orphans.

The Railroads will give cheap excursion rates to those who may wish to attend from other points.

Admission, 50 cents; children under 12 years, 25 cents. After 3 p. m. 25 cents to witness game of ball.

"The Dull Thrud."

The above is the title of a pamphlet which has been issued from this office and is now ready for delivery to the public. It embraces a history of all hangings in Christian county—ten in number—together with a sketch of the life and career of Jordan Taylor, his confessions, his trial and conviction, etc. The book will contain about 25 pages and will be illustrated with portraits of Taylor and of Sheriff Boyd, who will officiate as his executioner next Friday. The book will be sold at 25 cents and can be had at this office or the news stands.

Hanging at Clarksville.

Wm. Morrow, a white man, was hanged at Clarksville Tenn., at 2:14 p. m., Friday, for the murder of a negro named Jim Brown. Life was extinct in 17 minutes after the drop fell but the body was not cut "down" for 25 minutes. Morrow mounted the scaffold with composure and met death with great indifference. He left a written confession in which he admitted having killed Jim Brown for attempting to outrage his sister and having also killed Dick Overton for a similar offense against his little daughter. He declared that these were the only crimes of which he had ever been guilty.

The following persons, says the Tobacco Leaf, were all who were authorized to witness the execution, which was in the jail yard:

"Officers and assistants, Sheriff J. M. Collier, C. W. Staton, Matt Car-kuff, Alex Stafford, Jno. Osborn, J. L. Stafford, Clergyman—Dr. A. D. Sears. Physicians—Drs. D. F. Wright and J. H. Marble. Prisoners friends—P. G. Johnson, W. T. Mulligan, M. Savage. Sheriff's friends—F. F. Abbott, Rudolph Shelton, James H. Smith. M. V. Ingram, representing American, Irvine Mather, representing Nashville Union, and J. B. Clark, representing Nashville Banner. Representatives of the city press—Paul Wyatt, Chronicle; G. M. Bell, Democrat; W. W. Barksdale, Tobacco Leaf. The Sheriff and his deputy from Christian county and the Sheriff of Logan county were also present."

Called Meeting.

Hopkinsville Lodge No. 37 F. & A. M. will meet in called communication at its hall in Hopkinsville Ky., at 9:30 o'clock A. M., Wednesday, June 24th, 1885. Members of sister lodges cordially invited to attend and join in the procession to the Fair Grounds.

W. W. CLARKE, W. M.
R. W. NORWOOD, Secretary.

A Burksville correspondent of the Columbia Spectator says a sewing-machine agent named D. B. Harris came to that town about twelve months ago, and in a short time made the acquaintance of a Miss McCommas whom he soon married. It has recently been discovered that he was a married man at the time of his second marriage. The father of Miss McCommas was so wrought upon by his daughter's misfortune that he shot himself and will probably die. Harris escaped.

The brickwork on the Main Street buildings is done up to the second floors. There will be eight store-rooms ready for occupancy by September. Four of them are already engaged by the same parties who formerly occupied them.

Mr. Ovie McLeod, of Todd county, near Trenton, had his stable and corn-crib burned by incendiaries last Wednesday night. Loss about $150, with no insurance.

Rev. Miss Bartlett has been earnestly requested to return to our city to preach during this week.

SPECIAL LOCALS.

Enterprise Always Furnishes a Sure Basis of Success.

The world moves and history repeats itself. Washington, the first President of the United States, is first in history to have been the "first in war, the first in peace and the first in the hearts of his fellow citizens." TOM EDMUNDSON is the pioneer beer vendor of Hopkinsville. He was the first to sell beer; is the first in the minds of those who drink beer, the first in the estimation of those who believe in honest dealings. In 1868 this enterprising citizen opened a little beer stand on Russellville street in this city, the dimensions of which were 7½ by 30 feet, where he sold that most delightful beverage for about three years, his patronage and influence as a business man gradually increasing each successive year, afterwards conducting the same business under the store-room now occupied by Jones & Co., on Main street, and latterly at his present place of business on Nashville street, within one square of the depot.

Mr. Edmundson has been encouraged in his business career by a liberal and partial patronage. He has recently arranged and prepared his back yard for a BEER PRODUCER, a step desirably to be praised, as it furnishes a neat, private and inviting place for pleasant and social conviviality. He deserves the encouragement and patronage of our people.

Call and get one of his cool, refreshing glasses of beer.
